I understand that you may have questions regarding California Governor Gavin Newsom's Stay at Home Order issued this evening. Under this Order, we are to continue our business operations in order to maintain continuity of operation of the federal critical infrastructure sectors. As such, we will keep our facilities and manufacturing operations open while following the safety measures and guidelines that the government and the CDC have issued. If you can effectively perform your work from home, you should do so. Please work with your managers in order to set up this arrangement.

The health, safety and well-being of you, your families and our community on and off-campus are our top priorities. Thank you for your hard work and efforts to operate our business, which is vital to our country.
